

BMJ open access account Author process

1

During the ScholarOne submission process, authors will be prompted to select their member affiliated institution from the 'Open Access Membership' box.

Authors are also directed to our BMJ Author Hub, which lists BMJ's open access members and provides information on how to obtain member discounts.

Open access membership

A number of institutions have taken out open access memberships with the BMJ Journals, which will either cover the cost of open access publishing for authors at participating institutions, or provides authors with a discount on the open access fee.

The following institutes are participating in our open access membership scheme. Please select your institute from the drop down list of members:

Select...

- American University of Beirut
- Brunel University
- Cardiff University
- Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft institutes
- EIRA
- Imperial College London
- King's College London
- Loughborough University
- Manchester Metropolitan University
- National Patient Safety Foundation
- NHS Improvement
- Primary Care & Health Sciences, Keele University
- Queen Mary University of London
- Queen's University Belfast
- University College London
- University of Amsterdam
- University of Basel
- University of Bath
- University of Birmingham

Yes

2

Upon acceptance of an eligible article, authors will be prompted to request funding from their institution. Eligibility criteria and details of our their institution's open access team can be found on the BMJ Author Hub.

<https://authors.bmj.com/open-access/institutionalprogramme/>

The author's email address and selected institution will then be used to verify use of the account.

Upon verification, the article will either automatically be approved - or sent to the institution to approve/deny as appropriate.

Find out if you're eligible for a waiver or discount

Use the following search tool to find out whether your institution is a member and what discounts you may be entitled to:

Norway

Search your institution

University of Tromsø

Country
Norway

Type of membership
BMJ Open Access Accounts

Eligibility
Selected authors from the institution

Discount
Your institution will cover all costs when publishing in any fully Open Access journal from BMJ, e.g. BMJ Open.

Contact
For further information, please refer to the University's Open Access page

3

Authors will receive an email notifying them that their article has been accepted under the account funds.

From: info.adc@bmj.com
To: (Document not available)
Cc:
Bcc: snellson@bmj.com, journaladmin@bmj.com
Subject: Open Access Membership - (Document not available)

@@@date to be populated upon sending@@@
(Document not available)
Title: (Document not available)
Acceptance Date: (Document not available)
Dear (Document not available) (Document not available),
Funder information: (Document not available)
Institution: (Document not available)

We can verify that you are eligible to use your institution's Prepay account as per their open access Membership.

Your article will be branded with the open access logo to alert readers to the free access. The paper will also be deposited with PubMedCentral after print publication and you may make the final accepted edited/typeset pdf available immediately on your own or your employer's website [non-commercial only, unless funded by the RCUK or Wellcome Trust].

If your article was funded by the Research Council UK (i.e. Medical Research Council) or the Wellcome Trust, please let us know so we can ensure your article is compliant with your funder's open access policy and the correct license is applied. For a full list of RCUK sub-councils, visit <http://www.rcuk.ac.uk/Pages/Home.aspx>.

For more details on our open access policy please visit: <http://journals.bmj.com/site/authors/openaccess.xhtml>

Kind regards,
Ms. Emma Chan
Archives of Disease in Childhood Editorial Office

FOR ANY QUERIES PLEASE CONTACT openaccess@bmj.com

BMJ